Global Competence and Workforce Readiness

CTECS Workplace Readiness Skills Summit
Sacramento, CA
February 21, 2019

Heather Singmaster
Director, CTE
Center for Global Education, Asia Society
Center for Global Education at Asia Society

• Asia Society is a non-profit organization headquartered in New York, with offices throughout the United States and around the world—in Mumbai, Manila, Sydney, Hong Kong, Seoul, Switzerland, and Tokyo.

• Center for Global Education works to develop globally competent youth prepared for college, work, and citizenship in an interconnected world
Defining Global Competence
What is global competence?

The definition of global competence was developed in partnership with Harvard University and the Council of Chief State School Officers and has been recognized by global education organizations worldwide.
Asia Society ISSN: Transforming Schools through Competency-Based Global Learning

• National network dedicated to advancing the teaching, learning and leading of global competence – currently working with 30 urban, suburban and rural schools across the country.

• Successful school transformation in NY, OH, NC, DC, FL, ME, CO, TX, WA, CA since 2003.

• Since our inception we have reached over 35,000 students and 1,100 teachers through the ISSN.

• ISSN schools have a 91 percent graduation rate—more than 40 percent higher, on average, than graduation rates at demographically similar schools.
Career Ready Practices: Reflecting Global Readiness

1. Act as a responsible and contributing citizen and employee.
Career-ready individuals understand the obligations and responsibilities of being a member of a community, and they demonstrate this understanding every day through their interactions with others. They are conscientious of the impacts of their decisions on others and the environment around them. They think about the near-term and long-term consequences of their actions and seek to act in ways that contribute to the betterment of their teams, families, community, and workplace. They are reliable and consistent in going beyond the minimum expectation and in participating in activities that serve the greater good.

Global Readiness
From a global perspective, career-ready individuals understand they are members of a global community and act in ways that improve both their local and global communities and workplaces. They can identify, create, and act on opportunities for personal and collaborative action across disciplines, industries, and/or borders to address a situation, event, issue, or phenomenon in a way that is likely to improve conditions.

See all the Global Career Ready Practices at:
http://asiасociety.org/education/cte-standards-crosswalked-global-competence
CA Career Ready Practices

9.0 Leadership and Teamwork
Work with peers to promote divergent and creative perspectives, effective leadership, group dynamics, team and individual decision making, benefits of workforce diversity, and conflict resolution as practiced in the SkillsUSA career technical student organization. (Direct alignment with SLS 11-12.1b)

9.1 Define leadership and identify the responsibilities, competencies, and behaviors of successful leaders.

9.2 Identify the characteristics of successful teams, including leadership, cooperation, collaboration, and effective decision-making skills as applied in groups, teams, and career technical student organization activities.

9.3 Understand the characteristics and benefits of teamwork, leadership, and citizenship in the school, community, and workplace setting.

9.4 Explain how professional associations and organizations and associated leadership development and competitive career development activities enhance academic preparation, promote career choices, and contribute to employment opportunities.

9.5 Understand that the modern world is an international community and requires an expanded global view.

9.6 Respect individual and cultural differences and recognize the importance of diversity in the workplace.

9.7 Participate in interactive teamwork to solve real Building and Construction Trades sector issues and problems.
Global Education Certificates in the United States

GlobalEdCertificate.org
Why do workplace readiness skills need to be learned through a global lens?
Global Skills in Demand

• 95% of consumers live outside of US

• Fourth Industrial Revolution: full integration of technology; global digital platforms

• Commerce will revolve around the consumer – innovate to meet individual their needs
Globalization of the Economy

- Globalization is driving demand for an globally competent workforce
  - Global Supply Chain: One in five jobs is tied to international trade
  - Washington, DC -> 148% increase in job postings requiring bilingualism since 2010
Business Executives Say:

• 96 percent “comfortable working with colleagues, customers and/or clients from diverse cultural backgrounds,” is important.

• 91 percent “all students should have educational experiences that teach them how to solve problems with people whose views are different from their own.”

• 80 percent believe they could increase their overall business if they had employees with “international expertise.”
• White paper by project partners lays out the importance of global competence for CTE/STEM:

http://asiasociety.org/education/preparing-globally-competent-workforce
Mapping the Nation is an interactive map that pulls together demographic, economic, and education indicators—nearly one million data points—to show that the United States is a truly global nation.

Visualize This
Infographic on Languages
More Americans learning languages, but vast majority do not achieve working proficiency. Learn more.

Resources
Connect with state initiatives to mobilize local action, or to model best practices from similar states. Learn More
Key Indicators

% of Total Population that is Foreign Born

2007-11 Estimate

- California: 27.16%

Economics

- Estimated Sales Value of Imports & Exports of Goods
- Companies Importing & Exporting Goods
- Jobs Related to Services Exports
- K-12 Enrollment % Change between 2004-05 & 2007-08
- Post-Secondary Language Enrollment
- International Student Economic Value
- Languages Spoken at Home: # of Speakers

Map output © SAS Institute Inc. 2015. All Rights Reserved.
https://asiasociety.org/education/leadership-global-competence
Examples
Agriculture: Trout in the Classroom, New York

- Cheeseburger Project
  - Source ingredients of a cheeseburger; map where each component would be in season where they live
  - Student-led advocacy initiative to support local ag and reduce carbon footprint
- Trout in the Classroom
  - Virtually compared species they were raising with class in Ireland
  - Environmental issues related to clean water and fish populations
  - Trip to Ireland to meet
- Travel Abroad
  - Students pitch idea to school board, create business plans, raise money
Global Health for Freshman, Washington

• Given case studies – work together to evaluate, solve problems, and advocate

• Global Topics: diseases, policies of WHO, global health issues, advocacy, health intervention debates

• Present to their class, refine, and then present to other classes

• “Global Health really opens up the students’ minds to what is going on in health not only in our community, but around the world. It is difficult for them to shift their thinking away from themselves and toward others, but they now think of health in a new way.”
Global Manufacturing Simulation, Oregon

• First learn about global sourcing by looking at products they own
• Global production lines via guests from Boeing
• Matched with a class in Alaska
  • Design a set of gears – send designs to Oregon
  • OR students produce them
  • Sent back to Alaska for assembly
Free PD Resources

Center for Global Education

Four Domains of Global Competence

Investigate the World
- Students investigate the world beyond their immediate environment.

Recognize Perspectives
- Students recognize their own and others' perspectives.

Take Action
- Students translate their ideas into appropriate action to improve conditions.

Communicate Ideas
- Students communicate their ideas effectively with diverse audiences.
Global CTE Tools

• Online, interactive professional development modules
• Housed on ACTE’s CTE Learn community: CTELearn.org (free log-in required)
• For CTE educators of Grades 6-12
• Can earn a badge from NOCTI.
• Micro credentials through Digital Promise.
- Video-based
- Go at your own pace
- Free log-in required
Module 1

Introduces concepts of global competence and project management and makes the case for their importance to CTE and careers.

- Activities
  - Interactive discussion boards
  - Global career connections
  - Who are my students?
  - How global is my community? (MappingtheNation.net)
  - Workforce readiness rubric
Module 2

Introduces how global issues can be integrated into existing curriculum/projects and demonstrates how global competence and project management already align to CTE standards and classrooms.

• Activities:
  • Interactive discussion boards
  • Global CTSO events
  • Project Management self-assessment
  • Create your own global project (essential questions, global issue overview, standards, assessments, timeline, and activities)
- Video-based
- Go at your own pace
- Free log-in required
Module Topics

• Why are Global Skills Critical for Careers?
• Creating Local Global Connections
• Designing a High Quality Project
• Assessing Global Skills
• Project Management for Students
• Connecting with Classrooms Abroad
• Respecting Diversity
• Integrating Academics
• Developing Global STEM Skills through CTSOs and Service Learning
Global CTE Toolkit

This toolkit provides resources to help CTE educators integrate global issues and skills into what is already being taught in their classrooms. It is a companion to the FREE, online professional development courses, “Global Competence Through Career and Technical Education” and “Career Readiness in a Global Economy: STEM and CTE,” available through ACTE’s CTE Learn.
Heather:
hsingmaster@asiaso.org
@hsingmaster
AsiaSociety.org/CTEtoolkit